Sydney Market: The Harsh Reality

Key Market Data – 2026 YTD

5.3%

Sydney dwelling prices down

since January 2026

< 50%

Auction clearance rate

consistently below 50%

Market Characteristics

- Longer days on market
- Wider negotiation margins
- Sellers adopt wait-and-see attitude

Core Insight: The market has fully shifted from a seller's to a buyer's market, with downward price pressure expected to persist throughout the year. Investors should exercise extreme caution, while owner-occupiers can seize the current window of expanded negotiation margins to enter the market rationally.

Offline Lead Channels Have Collapsed

Open Home Attendance Is At Historic Lows

Feb 2026

4 people/property

Current

2 people/property

Offline customer acquisition's "traffic dividend" has completely disappeared. The traditional model of relying on walk-ins can no longer support business growth; we must shift to proactive acquisition.

Plummeting Attendance

Average attendance has dropped by 50% YoY. Traditional "wait-and-see" acquisition has failed.

Just 2 Attendees on Average

Zero attendance at some follow-up inspections; conversion efficiency hits rock bottom.

Buyers Hold the Initiative

Buyers no longer chase properties; agents must shift to proactive outreach.

The 4 Pressures Every Agency Owner Faces

1. Properties aren't selling fast enough

The market is sluggish, sales cycles are longer, and inventory is piling up. Traditional sales methods struggle to clear stock, blocking capital flow.

2. Qualified buyers are harder to find

Old lead channels fail, online traffic costs surge. Targeted buyers are scarce, prospecting is harder, and marketing ROI is unbalanced.

3. Good staff are leaving the industry

Falling performance cuts income, causing unrest. Top agents leave, team structure is unstable, and recruitment costs rise.

4. Profit margins keep shrinking

Operating costs stay high, conversion rates drop. Revenue growth is weak, profitability is eroded, and survival is threatened.

It's Not You – The Old Model Is Broken

ASIC reports rising agency insolvencies. The old playbook is broken.

Where Have All The Buyers Gone?

Buyer Behaviour Has Permanently Shifted

The buyers didn’t disappear – they moved online.

01 Research & Vetting

Actively search for properties and agent info on social platforms to gain initial insights and market references.

02 Content Consumption

Deeply browse market analysis, guides, and videos to understand property value, amenities, and potential risks.

03 Trust Building

Judge agents' professionalism, attitude, and credibility through authentic content to build a reliable foundation.

04 Connection

Initiate consultations via messages or comments to start the first step of communication and demand matching.

💡 关键启示： 这就是当代买家的决策路径：线上先“验货”，满意再“下单”。谁能占领手机屏幕，谁就能掌握客源主动权。
